

Design & Social Media Intern

Do you have the design DNA running through your veins?
Are you captivated by social media? And are you available to lend us a helping hand as an intern starting from January?
Then put away that stress ball, because you are at the right place here.

What do we expect?

- You have strong skills in Adobe Creative Suite (Illustrator, InDesign & Photoshop).
 - You are not afraid of the words 'animation' and '3D'.
 - You have recently successfully completed (or are in the process of completing) a relevant education in design or communications.
 - You work in a precise and assertive way.
 - You are curious, motivated, proactive and positive.
 - You have both a digital mindset and a print-fetish.
 - You have ideas and are not afraid to pitch something wild.
 - You have knowledge and skills in social media management for businesses.

What do we offer?

- A 3 month internship.
 - A fun team with nice colleagues.
 - The opportunity to work with a great variety of clients.
 - A place where you can learn and grow professionally.
 - An appropriate internship allowance.

Okay, enough about you... now a little about us.

Sinc is a creative agency that shapes the brands of tomorrow, today. We actively push boundaries and together with our clients set the world in motion.

We combine a strategic, creative and commercial way of thinking and doing, to get to solutions for the corporate or communicative challenges our clients face. Our scope varies from smaller projects to setting up and coordinating larger projects. From the blueprint to the execution.

Our team consists of contagiously optimistic people who see that things can be different. Who dare to dream big, think transversally and actually dare to do it. We are committed to each other and to our common goals, but also provide room for individual ambitions, own ideas and input. Which is why we like to spend part of our time on personal initiatives, executed in our 'Sinc Lab'.
